

Earn Your Master of Science Degree at Thomas Jefferson University

Thomas Jefferson University is a world-renowned academic health science center located in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, USA

Master of Science in Medical Imaging and Radiation Sciences

- Specializing in ultrasound
- 30 credits completed in 1 year
- Utilizes state of the art ultrasound machines and simulators
- Coursework includes general and vascular ultrasound, research, education, leadership
- Experiential learning in research and clinical settings

Prerequisites

- Bachelor's Degree in Medicine, Imaging Physician, or Sonographer
- GPA at least 3.0
- TOEFL overall score at least 87 (writing 21, speaking 23, reading 21, listening 22) or IELTS score at least 6.5

For more information, contact Dr. Traci Fox at traci.fox@jefferson.edu

Applicants with a minimum of 12 months hands on ultrasound experience may be eligible for the ARDMS certification exam. Contact us for more details.